Gerflor low maintenance Taralay Impressions and Premium adds color and design inside the $393m redevelopment of the Joondalup Health Campus in Western Australia.

Interior Designer for the Pediatric wing of the Emergency Department, Aileen Angus from Silver Thomas Hanley, said the vibrance and freshness of the Gerflor range inspired her selection.

“Being a health care project, the flooring was always going to be vinyl for obvious hygiene and maintenance reasons. I wanted bright, true colors and I found the colours and performance I was after in the Gerflor range,” Aileen said.

“Color is very important in health care because of its impact on healing and general wellbeing. When you are playing in this market all the time, it’s nice to have some true, vibrant colors to work with,” she said.
